

Social and Personal

PALMS and Easter lilies will bank the altar of the Holy Trinity Church this evening at 6 o'clock, when Miss Lily Montgomery West, daughter of the late Montgomery West, of this city, will become the bride of David English Dillam, Jr., of Germantown, Pa. Lighted tapers will be used on the altar and standards of lilies will mark the family pews. Dr. J. J. Gravatt, rector of the church, will perform the ceremony.

Miss Mary Stuart Cooke, of Roanoke, will attend her cousin as maid of honor. She will wear an imported gown of pale green chiffon, hand-embroidered and caught with flowers, and her bouquet will be Easter lilies. Joseph M. Shoemaker, of Germantown, Pa., will be the groom's best man. Four little girls will act as bridesmaids. They are Misses Mary McCaw Hawes, Frances Venable Carrington, Emily Hawes Wadleigh and Mary Corbin Spicer. Their frocks will be charming affairs of embroidered mullin and lace, made over pale green, meshing with wide sashes of the same shade, and will carry large bows of tulle and lilies of the valley over their arms. The groomsmen will include: Dr. Jay Witham, Frederick Tibbitt, Cushman Hartwell, William P. Norris, Lloyd Jones, Mills Shoemaker, Frederick Thomas, all of Philadelphia, and Hugh Rose, of Richmond.

In the absence of the bride's brother, George M. West, she will be given away by her uncle, George F. Brown, of Philadelphia. Her gown will be of ivory satin, veiled in chiffon, with insets of rare old lace on the bodice. Her veil of real lace will be arranged with lilies of the valley and pearls, and she will carry a shower bouquet of the same flowers.

Mr. Dillam and his bride will leave at once for an extended trip North, and on their return, will make their home in Germantown, Pa. Guests from a distance for the ceremony include: Mr. and Mrs. David E. Dillam, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Jay Witham, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin King, all of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Waverly Williams, of Petersburg; Miss Mildred Murdock, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Cooke, Miss Mary Stuart Cooke, John Hayward, of Roanoke; Miss Elsie Miles, of the University of Virginia; Miss Ethel Thomas, of Kentucky; Mrs. Bessie Barbee, of Hollins; Theresa Nurney, of Suffolk; and Francis Cooke, of Roanoke.

Theatre Parties Last Night.
The Academy of Music was filled with a very fashionable audience last evening to witness the first performance of "The Great Gatsby" by the "Theatre Guild." The boxes and orchestra were gay with parties. Mrs. H. Hughes Lindsey, who entertained a large number of guests in honor of her debutante niece, Miss Elsie Harbison, was also hostess of a supper following the performance at the Academy. Her guests occupied the first four rows of the orchestra, and included the debutantes of the winter.

Mrs. Thomas Smith entertained a box party last night in honor of Miss Lily West, whose marriage to English Dillam takes place this evening. Mrs. Smith's guests were Miss Lily West, English Dillam, Miss Theresa Nurney, of Suffolk; John Hayward and Miss Mary Stuart Cooke, of Roanoke; and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Butterick, who were hosts of another box party in honor of Miss M. Leach, of Baltimore, the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Leake, and Miss Edith, of Orange, N. J., who is visiting the

Dunlop Flour
It's the key to better living
The Dunlop Mills Richmond, Va.

Heaters at 20% Discount
Jones Brothers & Co.,
1418 East Main Street

A. B. C. Capitol Wrapped Loaf
"The best bread you ever tasted."
Wrapped in wax paper and touched by human hands until it is served on your table.
See at Your Grocer's.
AMERICAN BREAD BAKING CO.,
6, 8, 10, 12 E. LEIGH STREET.

Costs nothing; worth a fortune to suffering humanity. "Blue Line to Health" tells all about the famous Rexall Remedies. Write for a copy.

POLK MILLER'S
The Rexall Store
Richmond, Va.

Sample Shoe Sale NOW ON
$3.00, $3.50 and $4.00 Shoes
$1.98
Porter's Specialty Shoe Store,
217-219 North Fifth Street.

Removal Sale Now On
"Little Broadway,"
212 North Fifth Street.

Panacea Mineral Spring Water
gives you a normal appetite. Drink it!
Owens & Minor Drug Co., Richmond, Va.
W. E. Armstrong & Co., Petersburg, Va.

J. B. Mosby & Co.
$7.50 Silk Petticoats for $5 at Mosby's to-day.

Sale of Handmade Knitted Aviation Hoods
All Colors, Special. . . $1.25
Kaufmann & Co.

Misses Blankenship, was guest of honor in another party.

Miss Wadley Entertained.
Miss Nellie Hobart was the hostess of four tables of informal bridge at her home in Roanoke Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 6 o'clock in honor of Miss Margaret Wadley, of Richmond, the house guest of Mrs. W. W. Hoxley. Miss Hobart was assisted by Misses Alice Izard and Annie Hobbie. The guests included Misses Margaret Wadley, Mary Butler Evans, Mary Tice, Edmonia Gray, Cary Brooke, Nell Stephenson, Leona Dickson, of New Orleans; Mae McWhorter, Lena Smith, of Birmingham; Charlotte Kindred, Alice Izard and Annie Hobbie, Mrs. J. T. Towles, of Kentucky; Mrs. Lynn Ray Hammond, Mrs. Joseph Hunter, Jr., Mrs. Charles Freeman, of Toledo, O.

Attractive Dance.
A very attractive dance was given several evening ago in the home of Mrs. J. S. Cosby, 514 North Fifth Street, at 8 o'clock. Supper was served at midnight, and the decorations were in red and green. Among those dancing were: Misses Dora Jones, Lily and Susie Gary, Fannie Edwards, Ethel Stone, Ethel Epps, Eva and Edith Hewitt, Cora Cosby, Mamie Beardon, Alma Chilson, Annie and Lillie Thacker and Drew De Priest, Mrs. Robert Gary, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. S. Mills, Messrs. Garland, Gore, Harmon, Perkinson, Lyons, Pearson, H. J. Haddock, Estes, Adams, Pease, Weston, Hewitt, Cosby, Von Lloyd, Elliott, Wilkes, R. Henault, of Washington.

Meeting This Afternoon.
The regular meeting of the Commonwealth Chapter, D. A. B., will be held this afternoon at 1511 Monument Avenue, Miss Madge Freedley being hostess of the meeting, at 4 o'clock. Business of importance is to be transacted, and all members are urged to attend.

Dance Tuesday Night.
Aaron C. Schapiro gave a delightful dance Tuesday evening to honor the birthday of his daughter, Henrietta Helen. The chaperons were: Mrs. Henry Harris, Mrs. A. L. Weinberg and Mrs. Jacob Levy. Among those present were: Misses Schapiro, K. Rosenfeld, Fannie Gillman, Rosa Liebermann, Deany Spiegel, Esther Goldstein, Mary Amster, Nellie Tignor, H. Shapiro, Sara Shoen, Messrs. J. Hammerstein, of New York; F. Marks, Henry Spiegel, Morris Shefferman, George Hirschberg, Meyer Endelberg, H. Stern, William Josephson, Hutchinson, Morris Weinstein, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris, Mr. and Mrs. A. Weinberg, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Miller, of Lynchburg; Mr. and Mrs. Isador Shapiro. The stage included: Barnett Shapiro, of Washington; Henry Weinstein, Morton Marks, Louis Grushinsky and Julius Shapiro.

In and Out of Town.
Miss Edie Branch has returned to Richmond, after a brief stay at the Grafton, in Baltimore.

Mrs. Carroll H. Montague, who has been visiting in Danville, has returned to her home, 501 West Franklin Street.

Mrs. Gibson and Miss Gary, of West Point, are spending several weeks in this city.

Miss Gussie Lawson has returned to her home in Gloucester county, after visiting friends in Richmond.

Mrs. W. U. Kennon, who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Julien Bonford, at Westhampton, will leave for Powhatan county this evening.

J. Haskins Hobson has been the guest of relatives in this city for the past several days.

Miss Constance Johnston left this week to spend some time visiting relatives at Society Hill, S. C.

Miss Mary Tinsley, of Charlottesville, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. R. D. Garcia, on East Broad Street.

Misses Alma and Matilda Richardson have returned to Hampton, after visiting friends in Richmond and Petersburg.

D. Wiley Anderson has returned to the city, after spending several days with his father, Captain John B. Anderson, at Scottsville.

Judge G. G. Grafton, of Harrisonburg, Va., is spending a few days in this city.

Dr. and Mrs. Warner T. Wood, of Scottsville, are visiting relatives in Richmond for several weeks.

Miss Maude Pittman, of this city, has been a recent guest of Mrs. J. D. McDearmon, at her home at Appomattox.

Mrs. B. M. Walker and Miss Winifred Walker, who have been visiting friends here, have returned to Danville.

Mrs. A. L. Sibert and Miss Curd, of Roanoke, are registered at the Jefferson Hotel for several weeks.

Barnett Shapiro, of Washington, is visiting relatives in this city for some time.

J. Hammerstein will return to his home in New York City in a few days, after a brief visit to friends in this city.

Misses Jennie Little and Laura Lovett, of Roanoke, are in the city, visiting friends for a few days.

Mrs. Maurice Miller, of Lynchburg, is spending a few weeks with relatives in Richmond.

RAID ON ILLICIT STILL
Plant Near South Boston Captured and Destroyed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Danville, Va., January 13.—A large illicit distillery plant was captured and destroyed about 3 o'clock this morning just outside the corporate limits of the town of South Boston and within one mile of the post-office. The corporation line extends northeasterly to Moore's Creek and the illicit distillery was located on the banks of this stream. The apparatus was ingeniously arranged, and consisted of a 200-gallon copper still, with forty-five gallon wooden doubler connected, and fine, large fermenters, containing

Heiress, Husband and Horse on Which He Rescued Her

ARTHUR MAURICE WERNER AND HIS HORSE "MR. JONES"

about 2,000 gallons of stilled beer, a quantity of meal and other material. Floyd Gray, J. D. Albright and B. F. Stultz, of the Internal Revenue service, composed the raiding party.

Engagement Announced.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Harrisonburg, Va., January 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Wise, members of one of Harrisonburg's most prominent and wealthy families, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alma Wise, to Oscar Samuels, of Baltimore.

THE HATFIELD STORE

MEN'S
$1 and $1.25 English Walking Gloves to-day
89c

Fine Diamonds
Artistic Jewelry
Rich Cut Glass
Sterling Silverware
Illustrations and Prices Furnished on Request.

Galt & Bro.
ESTABLISHED OVER A CENTURY
Jewellers, Silversmiths, Stationers
WASHINGTON, D. C.

It is better not to be without
Butter Nut Bread
NOLDE BROS.

Sauer's
THE BEST
BY EVERY TEST
FLAVORING
CHOCOLATE

WEDS RESCUER, AN EX-POLICEMAN

Miss Giulia Morosini Becomes Wife of Arthur Maurice Werner.

New York, January 13.—Miss Giulia P. Morosini, daughter of the late Giovanni P. Morosini, was married yesterday morning to Arthur Maurice Werner, in Somerville, N. J.

There was a double ceremony. A civil marriage was performed first by W. R. Sutphen, of Somerville, and the religious service was read afterward by the Rev. Dr. Nathaniel Brooks, of No. 33 West Forty-fourth Street, Bayonne, N. J. The only witnesses were Mrs. Joseph Benedicks, a sister of Mr. Werner, and Giovanni P. Morosini, brother of the bride.

The parlor of the Somerville Hotel was the scene of the wedding. The wedding party arrived in Somerville by automobile, a short time before the ceremony and immediately afterward returned to New York by motor.

Planned a Secret Wedding.
It was the desire of both Mr. and Mrs. Werner that their wedding be kept an absolute secret, so no one was taken into their confidence until yesterday morning. At that time Mr. Morosini and Mrs. Benedicks were asked to accompany the couple for an automobile ride. At that time neither had an idea where they were to go.

Yesterday was the birthday of both bride and bridegroom. As has been her custom for years, Miss Morosini invited a few of her most intimate friends to dinner at her home, Elmhurst, Riverdale, last evening. While the house had been elaborately decorated with flowers and palms, no suspicion of the surprise intended for them entered the minds of any of the guests until the conclusion of the dinner, when Mr. Werner introduced their hostess as his wife.

Bridegroom Was a Policeman.
Mr. Werner was well known to New Yorkers some years ago as one of the honor men of the police department. He was one of the four original members of the traffic squad, and won honorable mention several times for stopping runaways.

It was on such an occasion that Mr. Werner first met Miss Morosini. He had been assigned to the Kingsbridge Station, and the beat he patrolled on horseback included the Speedway. While on duty there about five years ago, Mr. Werner spied one morning a runaway team that was being driven by Miss Morosini. Werner stopped the horses.

In the excitement Werner disappeared before Miss Morosini learned his name. Her father, in order to show gratitude to the man who had saved his daughter from injury, if not death, went to the Kingsbridge Station the next day with Miss Morosini, who picked out Werner from among the platoon of mounted men.

Sent for Policeman Werner.
A short time after the runaway Warner received an invitation to call at the Morosini home. The acquaintance thus formed ripened into friendship. When Mr. Morosini, about a year before his death, was severely injured by a fall, he sent for Mr. Werner and offered him the position of manager of his estate. Mr. Werner immediately accepted the offer and resigned from the police department.

So competent did Mr. Werner prove himself that upon the death of her father, in September, 1905, Miss Morosini placed Mr. Werner in almost complete charge of her large estate.

First Wife Divorced Werner.
This is Mr. Werner's second marriage. He married a dozen years ago a Miss Redding. Differences that arose led to a mutual agreement of separation eight years ago. The first Mrs. Werner continued to live at 630 West 35th Street for several years. About five months ago Mrs. Werner obtained a divorce on the grounds of abandonment.

The present Mrs. Werner was the favorite daughter of her father. Through his connection with Jay Gould, Mr. Morosini amassed a fortune of several million dollars. After the death of his wife he devoted practically his entire life and no small portion of his income to his favored daughter.

Miss Giulia became known not only as the best dressed woman in America, but as one of the most charitable. One of her favorite charities, and the one in which her aged father seemed to take the greatest interest, was an annual distribution of toys and clothing to the poor children of Riverdale at Christmas.

Each Christmas Miss Morosini engaged an enormous moving van, which was loaded with dolls, games, hats, shoes, stockings and mittens. Then the van was driven into the very poorest section of that part of the city, and Miss Morosini would distribute the gifts personally. Her father invariably accompanied her upon these expeditions and hugely enjoyed the happiness brought about by his daughter's generosity.

Second only to the pride he took in the charities of his daughter was that of making her the best dressed woman in America. At each horse show she was not only one of the most successful exhibitors, but also one of the most talked of women in attendance, owing to the magnificence of her gowns. While Miss Morosini expended large sums annually upon her dresses, she always insisted upon patronizing American dressmakers, arguing that by so doing she was extending her charities and encouraging home industry.

The Morosini home, at Riverdale, is one of the finest in the country. The property, about twenty-five acres, faces West 25th Street, extends through to West 25th Street and back to Riverdale Avenue. On the Riverdale Avenue side Miss Morosini constructed a half-mile track, upon which she was accustomed to exercise her horses.

It was not until two years ago that Miss Morosini bought an automobile. Since that time she has added three other cars to the first and is now looked upon as one of the most enthusiastic motorists in the city.

Wouldn't Wed While Father Lived.
The wedding of Miss Morosini fulfills a pledge she made years ago to her father. At that time she promised him she would never marry so long as he lived. After the death of her mother she devoted herself to her father to the exclusion of all others. Innumerable suitors sought her hand, among them members of leading families in New York.

To all Miss Morosini gave the same answer; she would never marry so long as her father lived.

While Miss Morosini is of Italian descent, she often expressed most positive ideas as to the alliances between foreign noblemen and girls of this country. When the time came for her to marry, Miss Morosini declared, she would take the man of her choice, no matter what his station in life might be.

Miss Morosini kept her promise to her father, and upon his death she was bountifully rewarded. While Mr. Morosini provided liberally for each of his children, he willed Miss Giulia the bulk of his large estate. He gave to her the family home at Riverdale and complete control of his millions.

Scott-Utz.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Buchanan, Va., January 13.—Mrs. Jennie Utz, of Fincastle, this county, was united in marriage to Dr. Wingfield Scott, of Atlanta, Ga., at the bride's home, near Fincastle, Wednesday at high noon, the Rev. Mr. Clark, of Salem, officiating. The attendants were J. L. Hannah, of Rockbridge, and Miss Annie Spencer of Fincastle.

An elegant wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony, and shortly after Dr. and Mrs. Scott left for Atlanta, Ga. The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of gray cloth, with hat and gloves to match.

PIANO FALLS OVER ON MAN, CRUSHING OUT HIS LIFE
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Roanoke, Va., January 13.—Floyd Ball was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock at Welch, when a piano fell from a wagon which he was driving, knocking him to the sidewalk, where the piano toppled over and fell upon his head and chest, crushing out his life. A number of men and women stood by, helpless to aid him, so sudden was the accident.

The Revolution
in baking methods which gave the world Uneeda Biscuit also resulted in a Revelation
in soda cracker quality. You realize this the moment you open the royal purple package and find soda crackers so tempting and good that they cannot be resisted.

5¢ a Package
(Never sold in bulk)

Uneeda Biscuit
NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

her received an invitation to call at the Morosini home. The acquaintance thus formed ripened into friendship. When Mr. Morosini, about a year before his death, was severely injured by a fall, he sent for Mr. Werner and offered him the position of manager of his estate. Mr. Werner immediately accepted the offer and resigned from the police department.

So competent did Mr. Werner prove himself that upon the death of her father, in September, 1905, Miss Morosini placed Mr. Werner in almost complete charge of her large estate.

First Wife Divorced Werner.
This is Mr. Werner's second marriage. He married a dozen years ago a Miss Redding. Differences that arose led to a mutual agreement of separation eight years ago. The first Mrs. Werner continued to live at 630 West 35th Street for several years. About five months ago Mrs. Werner obtained a divorce on the grounds of abandonment.

The present Mrs. Werner was the favorite daughter of her father. Through his connection with Jay Gould, Mr. Morosini amassed a fortune of several million dollars. After the death of his wife he devoted practically his entire life and no small portion of his income to his favored daughter.

Miss Giulia became known not only as the best dressed woman in America, but as one of the most charitable. One of her favorite charities, and the one in which her aged father seemed to take the greatest interest, was an annual distribution of toys and clothing to the poor children of Riverdale at Christmas.

Each Christmas Miss Morosini engaged an enormous moving van, which was loaded with dolls, games, hats, shoes, stockings and mittens. Then the van was driven into the very poorest section of that part of the city, and Miss Morosini would distribute the gifts personally. Her father invariably accompanied her upon these expeditions and hugely enjoyed the happiness brought about by his daughter's generosity.

Second only to the pride he took in the charities of his daughter was that of making her the best dressed woman in America. At each horse show she was not only one of the most successful exhibitors, but also one of the most talked of women in attendance, owing to the magnificence of her gowns. While Miss Morosini expended large sums annually upon her dresses, she always insisted upon patronizing American dressmakers, arguing that by so doing she was extending her charities and encouraging home industry.

The Morosini home, at Riverdale, is one of the finest in the country. The property, about twenty-five acres, faces West 25th Street, extends through to West 25th Street and back to Riverdale Avenue. On the Riverdale Avenue side Miss Morosini constructed a half-mile track, upon which she was accustomed to exercise her horses.

It was not until two years ago that Miss Morosini bought an automobile. Since that time she has added three other cars to the first and is now looked upon as one of the most enthusiastic motorists in the city.

Wouldn't Wed While Father Lived.
The wedding of Miss Morosini fulfills a pledge she made years ago to her father. At that time she promised him she would never marry so long as he lived. After the death of her mother she devoted herself to her father to the exclusion of all others. Innumerable suitors sought her hand, among them members of leading families in New York.

To all Miss Morosini gave the same answer; she would never marry so long as her father lived.

While Miss Morosini is of Italian descent, she often expressed most positive ideas as to the alliances between foreign noblemen and girls of this country. When the time came for her to marry, Miss Morosini declared, she would take the man of her choice, no matter what his station in life might be.

Miss Morosini kept her promise to her father, and upon his death she was bountifully rewarded. While Mr. Morosini provided liberally for each of his children, he willed Miss Giulia the bulk of his large estate. He gave to her the family home at Riverdale and complete control of his millions.

Tell It To "Him"

Father, Husband, Son or Brother tell the men in the house that Seymour Cycle is selling

Men's Regular $5.00 Shoes $3.48 A PAIR

All styles, all sizes, all leathers high grade well made men's shoes

A Special for the Ladies
$5.00 Tan Shoes—Really fine, Five Dollar values for $2.50 A PAIR
These shoes may be made black if you prefer—Broad soles and heels, wide and comfortable—Not all sizes and that's the main reason $2.50 will buy them.

In the New Shopping District

SEYMOUR CYCLE PATRICIAN Shoe 11 W BROAD ST

Next to J. B. Mosby & Company